A debate of perennial interest, addressing one of the oldest questions posed to religious believers--if God made everything, who made God? Most recently leveled by the New Atheists, the question of the likelihood that God is a human invention was first asked in ancient Greece and has preoccupied religious believers for centuries ever since.

CREATION OF THE WORLD In the beginning, the world was without form and empty. It was very dark and covered with water. God decided to create the sky and the earth and created the world in this order: On the first day, God said, "Have light." The light was seen and began to exist. God saw that the light was good and made a separation between the light and the darkness. God called the light ...
